This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at `http://books.google.com/`

PREFACE

In the following pages are recorded particulars of many of the more important books added to The Mitchell Library, and most of the additions made to the senior departments of the District Libraries, from August, 1915, to the end of last year. Under the conditions obtaining during that period it was not possible to publish complete catalogues of the respective collections. Such record was therefore limited to a selection of the books most frequently in request. In subsequent issues of the Bulletin it is hoped to include the titles of works here omitted.

This is the first printed catalogue in which additions to all the public libraries of the Corporation have been included, and it is believed that it will assist readers not only in the selection of books desired, but, by bringing to their notice the works available at the various libraries, will enable them to make the fullest use of the resources afforded by the Service.

Headquarters of the Library system are in The Mitchell (Reference) Library, North Street, where 250,000 volumes and 750 current periodicals are available from 9.30 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily. At 21 Miller Street, the Commercial Library occupies the first floor. It is designed to meet the needs of business men, and on its shelves will be found a comprehensive collection of books, periodicals, and information in other forms intended to serve this purpose. There also the specifications of Patents, British and foreign, may be consulted, and every assistance is given to those in search of intelligence on commercial and industrial affairs.

Commercial, Stirling's (Reference Department), and the Elder collections are provided for consultation on the premises only. Books for home reading may be borrowed from Stirling's (Lending Department), and the District Libraries generally.

Readers' tickets are valid for use at all the libraries, and books not available at the library regularly used by a borrower may be obtained there through the books exchange service. By this service a daily delivery of volumes in request is maintained between the libraries. This practice does not apply to Fiction in English. A diagram on page vii indicates the position of the libraries throughout the City and illustrates the service for the exchange of books.

HOW TO USE THE BULLETIN

The Bulletin is divided into:

1. Class List. showing the titles of books under main classes, divisions, and sub-divisions.
2. Index of Titles.
3. Index of Author and Subject Names.

If a work by a given author or dealing with a special subject is desired, the Index of Author and Subject Names should be consulted. Having ascertained the class-number of the book, reference should be made to the corresponding number in the Class List, where the work will be found with others treating of the same or kindred subjects. Books whose titles do not clearly indicate the subjects of which they treat will be found in the Index of Titles. In this index the titles are arranged alphabetically, except where they commence with A, An, or The, in which cases the word following the article determines its sequence.

The Class List shows the titles of books in an order generally corresponding with that of the volumes as arranged in those libraries where the public have free personal access to the books. This order enables readers to compare books and ascertain which will best meet their requirements.

Books dealing with more than one subject have usually been entered in the Class List under the several subjects of which they treat, as—

621.67 Centrifugal pumps

Sargeant (E. W.) Centrifugal pumps and suction dredgers. 1916. ill.

This work also appears at

627.7 Dredging

[621.67] Sargeant (E. W.) Centrifugal pumps and suction dredgers. 1916. ill.

In such entries the class-number in square brackets indicates the place in the list where the principal entry will be found. It is also the guide to the position of the book on the shelves in the libraries where the public have access to the books.

Where a title is followed by Ml. and a number, the number is that of the book in The Mitchell Library; other letters are contractions for names of libraries shown below. The book numbers of works indicated as in District Libraries will be obtained from the card catalogue provided at each library.

ABBREVIATIONS

The letters on the left margin are used after titles of books to indicate the Libraries in which the books are placed.
